Text of Health Commissioner's Report to Mayor on Water.

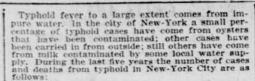

Health Commissioner Darlington's report to Mayor McClellan on the filtration of the water supply of this city appeared in a condensed form Saturday's issue of The Tribune. Following is the full text of the report: A careful study of the conditions on the Croton watershed and of the various other supplies of the greater city, covering a period of many months, has convinced me of the necessity for the establishment of filtration plants.

The watersheds of the city extend over a number of miles; those which supply Manhattan and The Bronx over 300 square miles. Within such an area,

Deaths from diarrhoeal diseases:

The outlying districts particularly would benefit from these filtration plants, where there are dead ends to the water pipes. In these dead ends the various suspended materials collect with bacteria, decomposition of organic matter takes place, the water becomes still more seriously polluted, and thus greatly increases the danger to health. The only method of caring for this at present is by the blowing off of fire hydrants, which is a great waste of water. It is not clear that this is regularly done.

The plan of filtration herein recommended does not mean that the city should guard any less the source of supply. I carnestly recommend, therefore, that as rapidly as possible, plants be constructed for the filtration of all the city's supply of water for drinking and other household purposes. of water for drinking and other household purposes.

The water supplies, so far as we know from analyses, are, as a rule, of good or fair quality. The chemical laboratory and the research laboratory are now making a joint investigation of all these supplies, and will give a detailed report later upon the results of the analyses, together with the depth of the wells and the character of the soil and the environment which might be a source of contamination. it is very probable that some of these cases of diarrhosal diseases have occurred from a contam-inated water supply. Long Branch Council Takes No Action on Gambling.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. Long Branch, July 31.-Contrary to expectations no reference was made to-night at the meeting of the City Council to the charge that gambling is being openly conducted without official interfermeeting was a special one, called to consider the firemen's parade and "other important business." It was the general opinion that President Baxter would bring the matter to a head.

President Baxter, when asked to-night concern ing the statements made by the Rev. Dr. Handley and the Rev. Dr. Lowell in the pulpits, as printed in The Tribune, said that there was a State law governing gambling, and that its suppression in Long Branch was not "up to" the City Council. From a most trustworthy source it is learned tonight that the clubs are closed, but as one of the camblers remarked this morning, "it's only for a few days' rest, as we expect to open up again."

"It's up to Mayor Francis to close the gamblers," New-York journalist and editor of "The Out-look" this afternoon filed in Probate Court by look," this afternoon filed in Probate Court here | going on, even by the captain of police, I am told,

NEW-JERSEY CENSUS FIGURES.

All Cities Show Increase-Newark's Population, 283,289.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Trenton, N. J., July 31.—The population of New-ark, the largest city of New-Jersey, as shown by returns filed with the Secretary of State to-day, is 283,289. This is an increase in five years of 37,319, or 15.1 per cent. There are 140,048 males and 143,241 females. Of the total population, 198,749 are American born, 6,398 are English, 11,006 Irish, 23,889 German, 14,621 Italian and 26,667 of various other nationalities. The population of other cities in the bulletin issued to-day follows:

New-Brunswick, 23,133, increase 15.6 per cent; Long Branch, 12,153, increase 37.3 per cent; Millville, 11,884, increase 12.2 per cent; Princeton, 6,629, in-crease 54.6 per cent.

The apparently large increase of Princeton is due to the fact that students of the university and theological seminary are included in these figures.

Mrs. P Marian Pove the mother of James F. Foye, an employe of Charles E. Gates at the Waldorf-Astoria, was in the Harlem court yesterday to see if her son appeared in answer to a summon ned for him. Foye did not appear, as he is still in Saratoga with his employer. Foye had his mother arrested recently, charging her with annoying him. She was discharged, after stating that her son refused to aid her financially was then issued. In court yesterday Mrs. Foye told Magistrate

Crane of her attempts to support herself. She showed a letter, written on Waldorf-Astoria stationery and signed "Mrs. McKenna," in which the writer said that she had read of Mrs. Foye's case and wished to see her. The writer said that she was about to sail for Europe, but would return in September.

Magistrate Crane said that he had received an anonymous letter, which he would investigate. The letter stated that Mrs. Fove had not been the mother she should have been. It stated that, when arrested, she was not seeking her son for support, but for $500 and a ticket to California. The letter further said that Mrs. Foye is now a bath attendant in one of the public baths.

Mrs. Foye said she had been commended by many public men for her efforts. She had been a trained nurse, she said.

ANOTHER WILD MAN IN HACKENSACK.

Nude Wanderer Thought To Be a Wealthy Bostonian.

Hackensack, July 31 (Special).-Another naked wild man was seen to-day in the same clump of woods alongside of the New-Jersey and New-York Railroad tracks, a mile south of Hackensack, from which crazy John Gallagher was taken early Sunday morning. Constable Dunn was told by the Hoboken police this morning that Gallagher's relatives would call for him, but up to a late hour tonight no one has asked for him.

Justice Heath committed Gallagher to jail for only two days, thinking his relatives could be located in that time. Acting Sheriff Blauvelt cannot detain a prisoner for a longer time than set forth in the committment, and Callagher will have to be

The constable has a supply of clothing ready for the wild man should he be caught. Dunn returned at dark without his man, but he will continue the search to-morrow morning.

NEW-YORKER WITH A CONSCIENCE.

Gives Himself Up on Self-Made Charge of Theft. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

Baltimore, July 31.-Walking into the Western police station, a respectable looking young man said: "I want to give myself up." Inquiry by Lieutenant Rowe showed his name was Ernest V. Dien, and that he had left Newat $50,000 and all the stock has been subscribed. It was organized by Western jobbers, who will be supployer's money.

According to the young man's story he had been drinking, when his employer, William P. Andrews, of No. 60 Nassau-st., New-York, gave him $300 to carry to the bank several weeks ago. Dien said he continued on his spree, and that the money soon disappeared. He said he did not know what took place after that, but, finding himself in Baltimore, his conscience hurt him, and he decided to turn himself over to the police and face the charge.

The sanitary experts, Messrs, Ailen Huzen and George C. Whipple, have recorded their judgment in equally positive terms in a report made to the Aqueduct Commissioners under date of December 10, 1904, in the following statement:

"We are further of the opinion that the best interests of the city require the filtration of the Croton water, and that an investigation of the best means of accomplishing this purpose should be undertaken at once." this purpose should be undertaken at once.

The new water supply will probably bring in an abundance of water. It should never be forgotten, however, that a deficiency in the supply due to drouth is not only serious because of the possible decrease in the per capita allowance. In addition to the indirect effect which a decreased supply of water has upon the sanitary sonditions and death rate of the city, the fact must be borne in mind that, with a decrease in quantity, in a water supply which is derived from the collection of surface waters, there is likely to be a marked depreciation in quality, owing to the concentration of the impurities already previously existent in it. As the reservoirs and streams are drained, the sources of pollution in the immediate itchity of them are also concentrated and frequently and thus a doubly dangerous result is brought about—concentration of impurities and diminishment of the supply.
